*"Now thank we all our God
With heart and hands and voices."*

(From Christmas 1939 issue)

*THE die is cast! We fight no more for peace
But ever pray the cannons soon shall cease.
We've tried to halt the rushing tide of war—
But no, for by the new concept of Law
It could not be. Till tyranny's no more
Force must meet force, before it is too late
And all our world's engulfed in tides of hate.
For evil's guile has blinded logic's sight;
Man's mind to one idea, one instinct, Might;
Man's goal a goal obtained by dint of force,
Such goals do bring but misery, remorse.
Must years of building up, collapse again
Before the primal savagery of men?
Bear up my friends, although the fight be long;
Bear up, believing Right must conquer Wrong,
Although the war brings toil and misery.
Reverse must come before true victory.
If our ideals are right, our purpose true,
Then they are all we need to see us through.
If we've the will, then ours the vict'ry is
And nought can stop our cause, for it is His.*

A SONNET

No power can wipe out, or ever will,
The mem'ry of our School; where tolled the gong
Of loyalty and honour. 'Twill be strong
Within our hearts, forever there to fill
A place aside. All wishing we were still
Beneath her wing, amidst the youthful throng,
Where side by side we fought: we stayed not long;
For soon we left our home upon the hill—
For the great task in life that's for us set.
And if despair and failure there are met;
The spirit of our School we'll still retain,
To urge us on, and never to regret.
A power with us ever to remain:
The honour of our School we'll ne'er forget.

J. O. ALEXANDER (FLT.-LT. Killed)

How sleep the brave, who sink to rest
By all their country's wishes blest!
When Spring, with dewy fingers cold,
Returns to deck their hallow'd mould,
She there shall dress a sweeter sod
Than Poets' feet have ever trod.

By hands unseen their knell is rung,
By forms unseen their dirge is sung:
There Honour comes, a pilgrim gray,
To bless the turf that wraps their clay;
For ever Freedom shall repair
To dwell a weeping hermit there!

KILLED IN ACTION

Copy of Editorial appearing in the "Gazette", Montreal, Tuesday, July 24th, 1945.

FLT.-LT. HARRY MORGAN

The death on active service of Flight Lieutenant Henry Colin Morgan, Royal Air Force, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Morgan of this city, is a grim reminder to Canadians that a hard and costly task still lies ahead in the Pacific War.

Harry Morgan, not yet 23 when he was killed, was only 18 when he left McGill University to enlist in the Royal Canadian Air Force in 1940, receiving his wings and commission as a Pilot Officer at St. Hubert in 1941. He proceeded Overseas in 1942 and was attached to the Royal Air Force in England. He was promoted to Flying Officer in 1943 and to Flight Lieutenant in 1944, when he was sent to India.

He was a skilled pilot and in his duties flying in all the far places of the world, he displayed courage, efficiency and knowledge which won the praise of his senior officers everywhere.

There is always tragedy in the death of young men whose early years show promise of rich fulfilment. Harry Morgan's career at Bishop's College School and McGill marked him as one who in the days ahead would apply himself seriously and earnestly to the problems of his country, for he had a great love for Canada in which his family had lived for a hundred years and a great pride in his native city of Montreal.

In his associations with others at school and college, his friendships were many and secure. His gay and happy disposition could not altogether hide a depth and charm of character rare in one so young, and which gave so much promise for the future.

From All Fronts

Welcome Home Old Boys

And we see, too, marching beside you, OTHER OLD BOYS, happy in your happiness - in having won.

The School Salutes You

Good Fortune Attend You

Lieut.-Colonel John H. Price, M.C.
O.C. Royal Rifles of Canada. (B.C.S. 1909-1915)

Foreword

It is indeed a privilege to be a contributor to the Magazine of a school whose fame has spread far beyond the borders of Canada and whose Old Boys have made their mark in every walk of life.

There were quite a few Old Boys on the ill-fated Hong Kong expedition. We heard of the School occasionally from the infrequent letters we received from home — stories of Thanksgiving weekends, sports days, football and hockey matches, old school friends and their sons who were writing their names large on the pages of history; news that brought back happy memories of long ago school days and eased the dreary burden of prison camp life and made one realize just how important a place school had played in one's life.

When Hong Kong was finally relieved on August 30th, 1945, by a British Fleet, an Old Boy, O/S Chris Flintoff of H.M.C.S. Prince Robert, gave me the first news of my family I had received for over a year and also had with him the midsummer 1945 issue of the Magazine which was full of news for us all and incidentally which gave me the added pleasure of seeing pictures of my boys and reading of their exploits.

The war is over. Thank God for that! Years of sacrifice and anxiety are done with and the aftermath leaves millions of unfortunate people near to starvation and in a state of chaos. But, at least, there can no longer be any doubt that free peoples can and will fight for what is right to triumph over the forces of darkness and tyranny.

The torch is yours to carry on. See to it that those who gave their lives in the cause of freedom did not do it in vain. See to it with all your might that bitterness, hatred and narrowness are abolished from the earth so that all peoples, regardless of race or creed or colour, may live together in harmony and good will to attain that degree of security all over the world without which our civilization cannot endure.

Good luck to you all.

"I CAN STILL REMEMBER MOST OF IT ALL"

I can still remember most of it all.

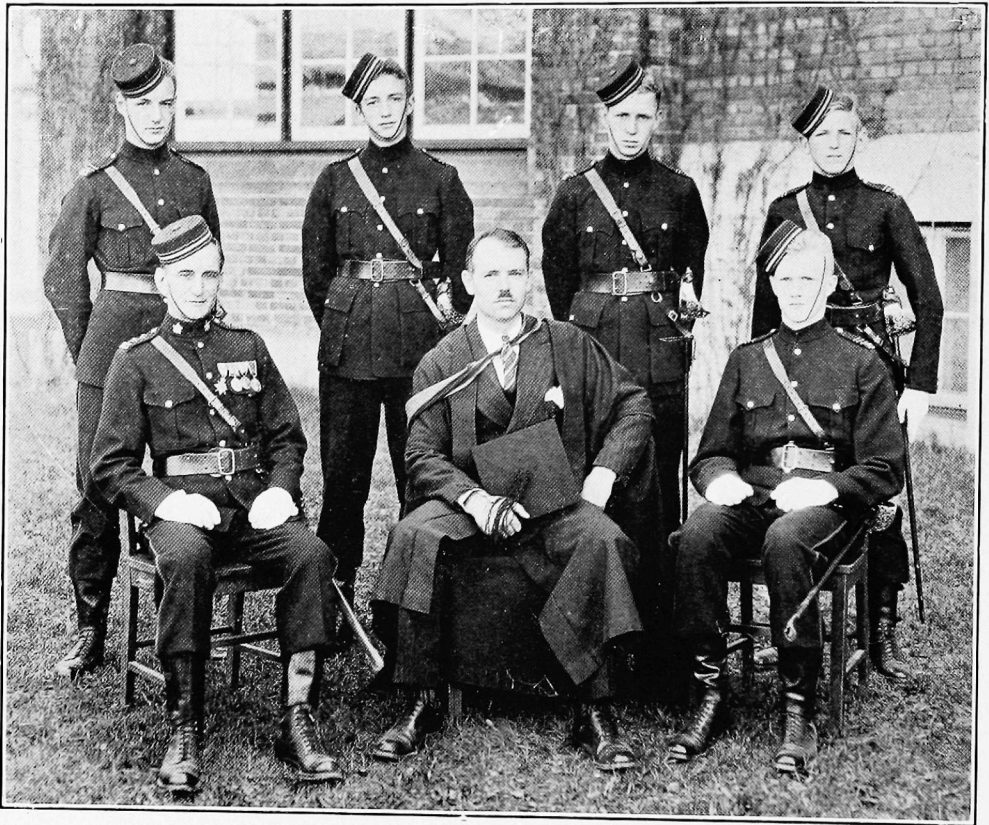

The green of the grass in the early spring,
The silvery sheen that the first snows bring;
The reddish-brown hue of very late fall,
I still can remember most of it all.

The chain of ivy all over the wall,
The blare of the bugles on Saturday morn,
The end of the game—all muddy and torn,
The scarred cricket bat—the old rugger ball,
I still can remember most of it all.

The bright light of the moon when late one night,
I stood on the steps and thought about life.
I thought about war and trouble and strife;
And then I decided it was time to fight,
It was time to do the thing that was right.

But I shall remember most of it all.

MEMORIES

Does Bishop's brave the ages still
With ivied walls and calm stern mien,
So proud amidst her pastures green,
Knowing her duty to instill
Some knowledge of the world to all
Who stand around the mellowing hall
And play upon the levelled field
And sit in class? For on the shield

One sees "Recti Cultus" stand out.
'Twas not so long ago I stood
On Centre Steps and thought it good
That I could laugh and run about
The shady woods and pleasant grounds
To listen to the many sounds
Of chirping birds or falling snow,
The cawing of the searching crow,

The steady beat of pouring rain,
The whipping hiss of winter's wind,
The many sounds that always dinned
Into my ears. For I remain
A part of Bishop's and all things,
So well beloved that memory brings
Back to my mind. Yes, I recall
How Bishop's held my soul in thrall.

I had a hut inside the wood
Where I would sit while thoughts would stray;
And sometimes I would hear the bay
Of distant dogs and then I would
Imagine that a wolf did howl
Outside the door with intent foul.
Now I rejoice that I can tell
These memories I love so well.

Editorial

"And are ye sure the news is true?
And are ye sure he's weel?
Is this a time to think o' war?
Ye jades, lay by your wheel;
Is this the time to spin a thread,
When Colin's at the door?
Reach down my cloak, I'll to the quay,
And see him come ashore.

There's twa fat hens upo' the coop
Been fed this month and mair;
Maik haste and thraw their necks about,
That Colin weel may fare;
And spread the table neat and clean,
Gar ilka thing look braw,
For wha can tell how Colin fared
When he was far awa'?"

If we must part, let this our parting be
Peaceful as break the clouds in sunny skies
And let it be, before all mortal eyes,
As smooth as part the swells upon the sea.

And tho' our hearts are bruised, we are the fitter.
Thus may we learn to harbour with content
A bright and dear remembrance. Happy thought,
That memory may sweeten, not embitter.

D. SHELLEY NICHOLL (V-A) (now LAC)

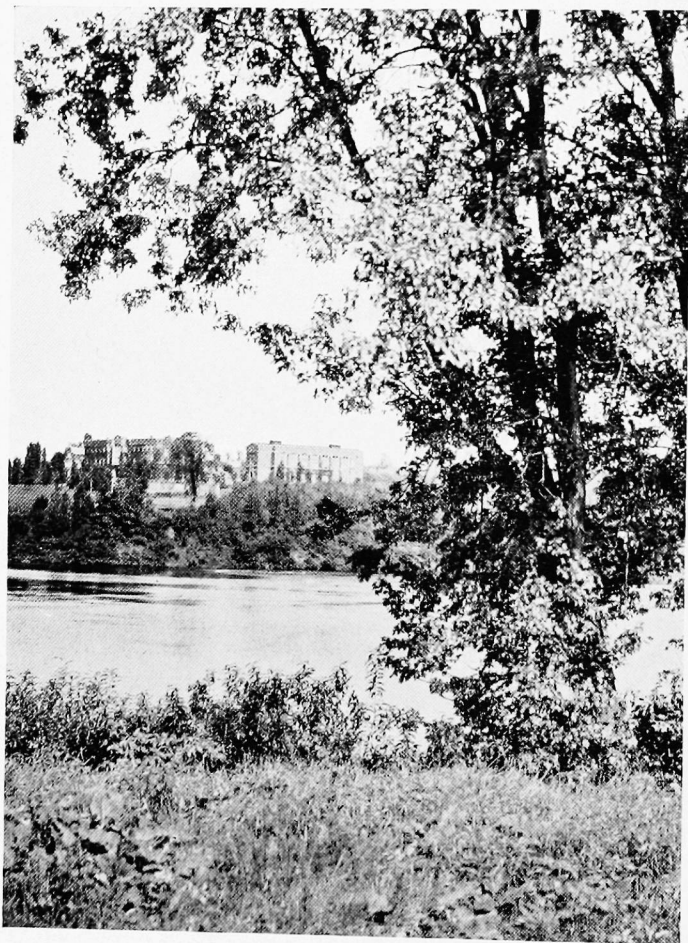

We express our gratitude to Lieut.-Colonel John H. Price, M.C., O.C. Royal Rifles of Canada, who, directly after his arrival from Japan, found time to honour us with a Foreword.

The School salutes all Old Boys returning from all fronts and welcomes you home. May Good Fortune attend you here!

As you return, smiling, we see OTHER Old Boys, too, most dear to us, marching home with you, marching down the street beside you, with the same happy smile on their faces as in the days when they marched beside you in the Corps and sat beside you in the Class room and played beside you on the playing field, happy in your happiness — in having won. We have a vivid picture of all — sometimes a very vivid, intimate and loving picture—of them. This unity and comradeship has an influence on and colours every page of our lives.

"We are very sorry that, through an error, the name of Alan G. Mitchell, was omitted from the list of successful matriculants circulated on Prize Day and published in the press. Mitchell achieved both a School Certificate and a Junior Matriculation in Science. Apologies and congratulations."

And Caliphs swinging memory's censers
With perfumes all from Araby.*

*Then you will dream, dreams long-forgotten.
Those dear lost loves of long ago;
And memory will be new-begotten
Clean days and fair the page will show.*

*You were a king and servants bended,
In dolce far niente days;
We staged the future, Muses tended
We played the Game and won the bays.*

*Again you'll play those matches over,
When life runs dry that now runs rare;
And prize then like a treasure-trover,
What you did do, what you did dare.*

*Though college days were fame's predictor;
Can fickle, world's applause compare
With that your school pals gave the victor,
So hearty, free and debonair!*

*When shouts of cheering praised the winners
You were a trier in your place;
Perhaps not brilliant as beginners,
A quitter, never, in the race.*

*Old loves, old hates, are long forgotten;
But you will live this page once more,
The lads you loved are in its setting,
You'll meet old pals from days of yore.*

*Long shadows fall at eve's declining;
These days will gild the page with gold.
Clean days will silver dark clouds' lining
And live, when you are very old.*

Headmaster's Report

Of all the festivals of Thanksgiving which have come and gone in that period of man's development which we call "modern times", this festival, to the vast majority of people, will seem to have been the most joyous.

To a school like B.C.S., the first post-war Thanksgiving must have a profound significance. For many of her boys it is linked with the return of a father or a brother from a long and hazardous exile overseas. In some instances, the emotional impact of reunion is heightened by the magic of release from an enemy prison camp. For the School at large it brings to an end the sad, proud process of adding name after name to the Roll of Honour. It brings back to the School those Old Boys whose careers in Army, Navy, and Air Force we have long followed with gratitude and pride. For all, it must bring something in the nature of a spontaneous confirmation of loyalties, old and new, and a rededication to what we believe to be the ideals which support our right to a corporate life under the School motto RECTI CULTUS PECTORA ROBORANT.

All this we approach, as is befitting, in a spirit of gladness, but we remember, as we do so, that we are but a step from the bitter sense of loss which only war can bring. Many of our Old Boys have been killed or have died on active service. When a suitable memorial has been erected on these grounds to those who have not come back, you will be able to read their names, and to give thanks for their unselfish devotion to an ideal.

It would appear that between 475 and 500 former pupils of the School have been in uniform, or almost exactly as many boys as have gone through the School in the past fifteen years. Fifty-two of these are known to have been killed or to have died on active service, including the following, whose names must now be added to those I read a year ago: Lieut. M. S. Grant, and Lieut. K. M. Macdonald of the Royal Canadian Navy Volunteer Reserve, Lieut. H. E. Wood and Lieut. E. F. H. Boothroyd of the 8th Recce Regiment; Capt. P. H. A. Hertzberg of the Royal Canadian Regiment; Flight Lieutenants J. F. Acer, W. M. Hale, and H. C. Morgan of the Royal Canadian Air Force; Flying Officers A. G. Scott and C. J. P. Ramsey of the Royal Canadian Air Force; Corporal G. Smith-Loggie of the 1st Hussars, and Cadet J. W. Hooper of the Indian Military Academy.

In addition, five others are still listed as missing.

The way in which these Old Boys of ours have fought is manifested by a list of promotions and decorations too long to read to-day, but you will permit me to mention the name of Brigadier R. W. Moncel, our guest of honour, as one which implies those soldierly qualities which so many have displayed. I might remind you, too, that of the units returning to this province from overseas, at least three will be commanded by men who were in the ranks of the Cadet Corps less than ten years ago.

In memory of certain of our pupils who have lost their lives, we have received gifts of prizes and scholarships of great sentimental and intrinsic value.

Gerald Hanson, the son of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. A. E. G. Hanson of Montreal, left the School as short a time ago as 1942. He did not wait for a commission, but enlisted in the ranks, went to Italy, and was there killed. The prize in his memory is awarded for an essay on an historical subject, and for the best marks at the junior matriculation examination in History.

Edwin Ronald Bennett and Henry Harrison Bennett were the sons of Captain and Mrs. R. V. Bennett of Sackville, N.B. Ronald, a former prefect and winner of the Governor-General's Medal, was killed when the Black Watch went into the gap at Caen shortly after D-Day, and Harrison two weeks later. In their memory, Captain and Mrs. Bennett established a scholarship fund of $25,000, the interest from which will keep continuously in the School at least two Bennett Scholars. The awards are, of course, competitive, and the first winners are M. C. Magor of Montreal and M. L. Wall of Ste. Agathe.

* * * * *

The daily life of the School was, last year, as normal as it could be under the distracting influences of the concluding months of the war. It was an upsetting time for our senior boys. At one moment, they were sure that they would be in uniform within a few weeks, at the next, they were equally sure that they would not. To this altered prospect, there was added the probability that, in deference to plans for returned men, it would require a celestial mark to gain entrance to a university. In the circumstances, I do not wish to be too critical of matriculation results which were mediocre in comparison with those which experience has led us to expect. Ten boys passed their junior matriculation, and one his senior. Fourteen boys passed their junior school certificate and two their senior. For the second year in succession there have been no first class honours, an omission which I hope will be corrected next June.

For the fifth, fourth and third forms, a more rigid standard of promotion has been adopted. There are now three examinations, one in November, one in March, and one in June. In order to gain promotion, a boy must pass in any two of these. The minimum requirements for each examination are 50% in every subject or an aggregate of 60% with no subject below 40%. As a consequence of the adoption of this standard, there have been a number of disappointments, but the net result has been better work and better forms.

In an academic vein, I should like to say a word or two about what may be described as our "conservative" or even our "traditional" attitude toward Latin. As long as Latin is a requirement of the best type of university course in Arts, we shall continue to teach it, and we shall continue to make it an obligatory subject until a boy is ready to enter the Fifth Form. That is to say until we are reasonably sure that specialization in Mathematics and Science is the best thing for him. I agree with a recent contributor to Harper's magazine when he writes, "just reading Homer and Virgil and studying dead civilizations . . . does not necessarily unlock the understanding of life . . . but . . . anything which helps to develop that side of a boy which most needs development, namely what the colleges call liberal arts and the humanities, is something to be encouraged". It is apparent from much of what has been said and published recently that a better sense of educational values is gaining currency again, and that a more thorough study of Latin, for true and accurate scholarship; of modern languages, for an insight into the minds of other nations; and of History, for guidance and for warning in the complex relationships of man with man, may one day be the equipment with which the schools will provide their pupils as they approach, in the universities, the study of the humanities. This is encouraging, and a refreshing change from the shallow pedagogic casuistry of the 1930's.

It was to be hoped that the end of the war would see the return of Lieut. C. C. Love to his post at the head of the classics department, and of Lieut. Ogden Glass to the English and History staff. It was not to be. Mr. Love has accepted a teaching fellowship at Toronto University where he is studying for his Ph.D., and Mr. Glass has been appointed Headmaster of Ashbury College. Our loss is another's gain, and we congratulate them all. The vacancies on the staff have been filled by Mr. A. K. Campbell, B.A. of McGill, and Mr. J. Y. Ross, B.A. of Alberta, both of whom we welcome to the School. We welcome, also, to the staff of the Preparatory School, Mr. Michael Wallace, a prefect of last year, and the great grandson of a former headmaster.

There remains one vacancy on the staff, and one which the last incumbent made so vital a part of the work of the School, that I have not yet succeeded in finding a suitable replacement. Lieutenant W. H. Fisher, at the age of sixty, and after twenty years of service, retired last June. As cadet corps, gymnasium, and boxing instructor, Mr. Fisher has carved a permanent niche for himself in our regard and our affections. I have never known so good a cadet corps instructor, and I have known a great many. During the twenty years in which he was in charge of the training, the cadet corps won the emblem of military efficiency in Military District No. 4 no less than eleven times. That record speaks for itself, but let an Old Boy still on active service speak for Mr. Fisher. This Old Boy writes, "I have been meaning to write to Bill Fisher because I was terribly sorry to hear of his illness, but I want to express something which I feel, and which I know is felt by many Old Boys. The Sergeant was, to many of us, the first real soldier we had ever met, and the impression he created in our minds has been a vivid and a lasting one. Taking into consideration the number of B.C.S. Old Boys who are now officers or N.C.O.'s in the services, I can't help feeling that a great many people in Canada's armed forces owe, directly or indirectly, a tremendous debt to this splendid and unique soldier".

The entire School, past and present, extends its cordial good wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Fisher in their retirement.

There was a time when I could raise a cheer at Prize-giving by announcing that the attendance at the School had increased. This is so no longer. The fact is that we have long since reached our ceiling, and that the pressure on the ceiling has had repercussions in the cellar, where a former handicrafts room is now doing duty as a classroom. From cellar to attic—if one excepts the Preparatory School which is full, but not uncomfortably so—we are suffering the discomforts of having to make the best use of every inch of space. It is a condition which there is every prospect of relieving in the near future, but which, meanwhile, explains the temporary cessation of classes in carpentry, as well as the decay of certain clubs.

Some of our clubs have admittedly proved to be but biennials at the best: others, which have survived the vagaries of the Lennoxville climate and the bludgeonings of fate, have every right to claim to be hardy perennials. Specifically, these are the Debating Society, (Mr. Young) the oldest society in the School; the French Club, (Mr. Hall); the Music club, (Mr. Moffatt); and the Players' Club, (Mr. Evans). The latter did an excellent production of "Twelfth Night" last spring, and succeeded in solidly reinstating W. Shakespeare as a best seller.

I could give you details of broken noses, sprained ankles, bruised knees, charley horses and other minor mishaps sustained in pursuit of footballs and hockey pucks, and I could add to these a catalogue of lesser ailments which would do justice to the blandishments of a purveyor of patent medicines at a county fair, but I shall refrain from doing so out of a sense of modesty, and shall merely remark that there were no epidemics last year and the health of the School was good. By way of assuaging that feeling of irritation which you experience on receipt of a formal notice that Tommy has been admitted to the infirmary, may I offer you my congratulations on being parents of families which will eventually grow up, and not the wardens of a segment of society which annually renews its youth and will be just as susceptible to mumps and broken noses ten years hence as it is at the present moment. However that may be, I should add that with Miss Morissette, Mrs. Boyle, and Miss Rayner at the controls, and with Dr. T. J. Wells as school doctor, we are ready for anything.

The School has never before had so good a chapel choir as that which has been trained and maintained by Mr. Page for the past ten years. Good treble voices are to be found in many choirs, but in few school choirs do they sing in such a way as to be enjoyed, or even heard. Where, too, will you find the altos, tenors, and basses all supplied from boys under eighteen years of age? Mr. Page has worked miracles with our chapel services, and he has been loyally supported by successive groups of choir boys who have developed a real sense of good church music. The choir sang last year in the parish church at Coaticook, and in the Church of St. Matthias, Westmount.

We have been without a resident chaplain, and I should like to take this opportunity of thanking the Rev. Mr. Sydney Childs, of Bishop's University, for his unfailing kindness in conducting the Chapel Services throughout the year. When Mr. Childs was engaged elsewhere, we were always able to call on the Rev. Mr. Elton Scott. These gentlemen, along with the Ven. Archdeacon Jones, who took charge of our confirmation classes, made it possible for us to continue our chapel worship uninterruptedly and in our best traditions, and we are very grateful for the time which they gave so ungrudgingly.

Compulsory sport is a part of the daily programme of the School. Playing games has become so normal a procedure that I doubt if many boys realize that it is a compulsory activity. In this part of the world, it is difficult to get outside competition for our younger boys except in soccer and hockey, so we are forced to form our own leagues. Thus in football, last autumn, two leagues of three teams each provided many interesting matches, and furnished a number of sound players to this year's senior crease. The Bantam Hockey team, all under fourteen years of age, over-rode all opposition (also under fourteen years of age) and won with ease the championship of the Eastern Townships. The skiing season was a good one, but its reappearance in the month of May, completely ruined the cricket season for seniors and juniors alike.

The First Football team, under the able example and captaincy of Price I, won again the Shirley Russell Cup, and the First Hockey team won the Ashbury Old Boys' Cup. At cricket our First Eleven lost its only school match to Ashbury College.

No announcement has yet been made of the results of cadet competition, but as the local military district did not contrive to send an officer to our annual inspection, I doubt if we shall receive any official acknowledgement of a lot of hard work done by the cadet officers themselves in the absence of Mr. Fisher. The Corps took part in a local cadet display on the 24th of May, and was inspected on the 4th of June by the Director of Army Cadets, Col. K. M. Holloway. We had Col. Holloway's word for it, that it was an excellent inspection.

Aside from those items of entertainment originating in the School such as the annual Hallowe'en concert, the Sunday evening pictures, the one-act plays, and the Players' Club production, the School was unusually fortunate last year in its diversions. Among these were: a most enjoyable dance at King's Hall, Compton, to which the School was invited and from which the School eventually returned; an excellent piano and violin concert by the Pirani's; a talk on the fighting in Holland by Major Popham of the Black Watch; an amazing personal account of blockade running between Sweden and England by Sir George Binney, and a combined operation by Lieutenant Trenholme of the Navy and Sqn. Ldr. Norsworthy of the Air Force about what happened on D day.

We thank them, one and all.

I must conclude with a word about our kitchen staff. The chef and his assistants, on a normal day, serve three meals to 199 persons, or a total of 597 meals. I have yet to hear these meals criticised adversely. This week-end, the chef, by the time he has finished with the tea-dance and including the tea at my house yesterday for which he catered, will have served twenty-five hundred and forty-four meals. Now the help situation is not quite what it used to be in the piping times of peace, and what with this and other problems, I make so bold as to suggest that, if the gratification of the needs of the inner man may be said to contribute to his daily pleasure or to the enjoyment of a week-end such as this has been, then an acknowledgement should be made of the skill and unremitting efforts of our chef, Johnny Jones.

That is the end of my report, but I must add a very brief postscript written last night when I was able to relax and think about the two memorable services in the Chapel, and to recall the names and faces of scores of Old Boys whom I had not seen for years. As I sat in my library, I became aware of the extraordinary richness of a schoolmaster's life, and of the rewards, not infrequent, but very frequent, which it brings.

It is thus with a very real sense of the privileges of my profession that I would like to welcome our guest of honour, Brigadier R. W. Moncel, D.S.O., O.B.E., one of my Old Boys who entered the Preparatory School in 1927 and matriculated from the Sixth Form in 1934, a year in which he was a Head Boy, the Drum-Major of the Cadet Corps, and outside wing on the football team. Bob Moncel joined the Victoria Rifles immediately after leaving school. He went overseas as a 2nd Lieutenant in 1939. He climbed steadily up the ladder until he finally crossed to France in command of an Armoured Brigade—the youngest brigadier in the Canadian Army. He has done us the honour of coming to present the prizes to-day, and I feel that the duty of presenting them could not have been placed in more suitable hands.

The Choir

At the beginning of term, only one of last year's basses was left. Although many good, but heavy, voices were discovered, most of the work in this department fell upon Robin Pitfield, who is gradually getting the rest to keep with him instead of half a beat behind.

We are more fortunate in the tenor section. Many of these are good readers. Their tone is, at times, so newhat coarse, but it is improving rapidly.

The limited number of altos makes this part, always difficult for boys, even more so, but the members strive nobly to be heard. All are good readers.

The new voices in the trebles are of very good quality. With more experience they should rank with the best of the past.

The Thanksgiving services imposed a great strain upon the Choir, the Old Boys' service following immediately after the usual one, which was attended by a large number of parents and friends. It was good to see and to hear so many former choir-boys at the second service.

On Sunday, November 4th, we occupied the stalls in the old church at Hatley, by the invitation of the Rector, the Rev. W. Belford. In the Town Hall, after a very enjoyable lunch, he kindly thanked us for our services. The Senior Prefect, Satterthwaite, expressed on behalf of the choir our pleasure and privilege in being invited, and added a few well chosen words of appreciation to the ladies who had provided the refreshments.

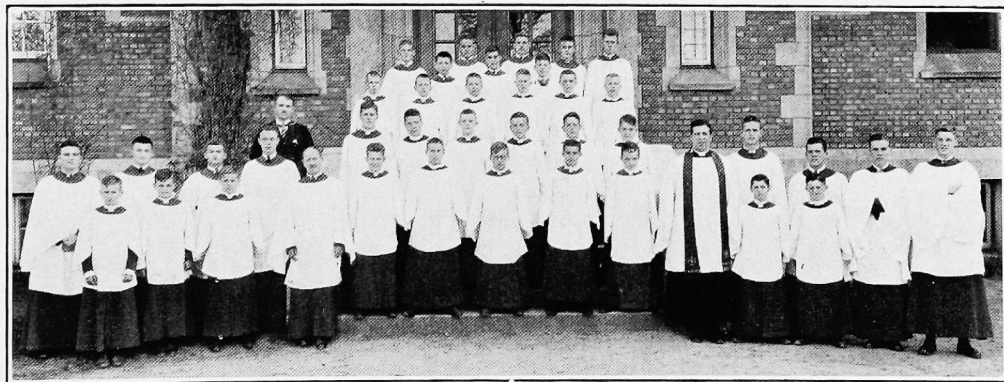

At the moment we are looking forward to singing at St. George's, Lennoxville on Dec. 9th, and to the Carol Service on Dec. 16th. The numerous soloists for the latter service are beginning to tremble already.

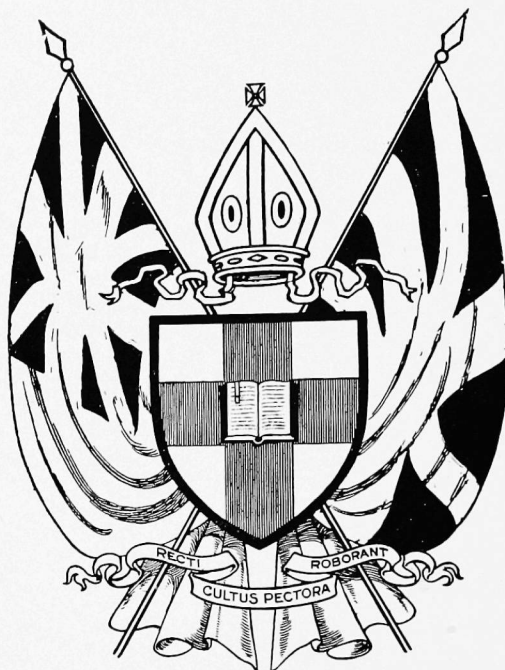

BASSES: Boswell, Creighton, Pitfield, Rider, Rowland, Satterthwaite, Skelton, Turpin.

TENORS: Abbott, Fraser, Furse, Gordon, Magor, McCulloch I, Price I, Sewell Wallace.

ALTOS: Lawrence I, Pattison, Sheard.

TREBLES: Ashworth, Berlyn, Bird, Bishop, Campbell, Chapman, Findlay, Glassford II, Grier, Hart, Hickey, Hugessen, Hutchison II, Jekill II, Mackie, Mather, McCulloch II, Neil, Patterson, Peirce, Rankin, Scheib I, Scheib II, Setlakwe II, Whitehead II, Willis, Windsor.

CADET CORPS NOTES

This year the Corps has a strength of 86 cadets and 33 recruits. The corps has had both khaki and blue uniforms issued to them.

The following officers were appointed:

Cadet Major, W. E. Satterthwaite.

Cadet Captain, J. A. Sewell.

Cadet Lieutenant, H. Cleveland.

Cadet Lieutenant, T. H. McCall.

Cadet Lieutenant, R. H. Pitfield.

PARADES

The annual parade to the cenotaph in Lennoxville was held on Nov. 11. Sgt. Major Fraser stated that 64 Old Boys were killed in the First Great War and read the names of the 52 Old Boys killed in the Second Great War.

A special platoon consisting of the six officers, the Sgt. Major and thirty N.C.O.'s and cadets paraded in Montreal on Wednesday, November 21, 1945, to welcome the 1st Battalion Black Watch who had returned from Overseas.

Cadet Instructor, Lieutenant Fisher, relinquished his training duties last June. However, Lieutenant Fisher is carrying on until a new instructor relieves him at the end of this term. The Corps, as representative of the School of present and previous years, wish him the best of luck on his retirement.

HEAD PREFECT
CADET MAJOR

School Notes

This term we welcome to the staff Mr. A. K. Campbell, B.A., McGill, whose acquaintance with Lennoxville began when he attended the Summer School of Bishop's University, and who has been Principal in Quebec High Schools for a number of years; and also Mr. J. Y. Ross, B.A., University of Alberta, who taught for some years in High Schools of his native province. Mr. Ross came to us from Toronto, where he was taking graduate studies leading to an M.A. degree in History.

To D. J. H. Turner, M.A., Ph.D., and Mr. W. F. Lowndes, B.A., who left us in June, we extend our very best wishes in their future careers, and we congratulate Dr. Turner on his marriage which took place during the summer.

EDUCACION SUR Y NORTEAMERICANA

I

Sin contar el idioma hay mucha diferencia entre la educacion Sur y Norteamericana. En la America del Sur, el clima es uno de los principales factores que influye en la educacion de los muchachos.

Como es calido en el Norte del continente Suramericano, los muchachos usan pantalones cortos hasta los catorce o quince anos.

El autobus sale del Colegio a recoger los alumnos a las seis y media de la manana; asi es que para estar listos, tenemos que levantarnos a las seis.

A las siete y cuarto todos tenemos que ir a misa y a las ocho y cuarto principiarnos las clases que se terminan a las once y media. Por la tarde estudiamos desde las dos hasta las cinco.

Bueno! Basta de horarios, ahora pasemos al sistema de institucion.

Tres veces por la semana tomamos Educacion Fisica, por ser el clima muy agotador, estas clases solo duran una hora.

El programa de estudios esta casi totalmente basado en la memoria, cosa que afecta los nervios.

II

Los colegios Norteamericanos son mas modernos porque hay que memorizar casi nada y el horario es mucho mejor porque desde las tres y media en adelante podemos practicarnos en los deportes de la temporada.

El "Bishop's College School" es si no el mejor, uno de los mejores en el Canada. En este Colegio se aprende desde disciplina hasta deportes. Tiene un campo deportivo enorme, bosques y toda clase de comodidades, que anadido a la eficiencia de todos los profesores, son las cosas que un buen Colegio puede tener.

El sistema de calificar esta echo de una manera psicologica e inteligente.

PROVERBIO: "Digo lo que pienso y pienso lo que digo."

Chapman's

Once again Chapman House is having another successful year, and an excellent house spirit has been established.

All the members of the house, with the exception of a few of the more strong-minded (i.e. rugby casualties) entered the cross country race. The results were very satisfactory. Norman Solomon came first and Robin Pitfield fourth in the senior race, helping to win the senior shield for the second year. Ian McCulloch placed third in the junior race.

The house is run this year by four Head Boys, Ronald Hickey, Robin Pitfield, Scott Fraser and Harry McCall, of whom three are old members of the house.

The boys have set a record for being punctual at breakfast, although there have been some close races from the bottom of the field. This probably accounted for the success of the cross-country.

We close by wishing Mr. and Mrs. Moffat a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.
A.S.F. & T.H.M.

Williams'

The nights are getting colder nowadays, but those of Williams House happily don their overcoats and hastily take refuge in its hallowed rooms after having crossed the snow-covered ground. If you have ever been out of bounds, you probably have seen:-

Faerman come out of the closet with a large bundle in his hands: chicken, candies, fruit and chocolate biscuits. The night is yet very young.

Oh! Oh! What's this? Two more famished ones have arrived. The "big shots" are here. Then and there a sudden bond of friendship has been created between the Head Boys and their younger protégés. No shoes to shine, no beds to make. A fair distribution and all are satisfied. Ed Whitehead seats himself over in one corner of the room and eats heartily of the night's find. He seems to be gazing into space. Could he be thinking of the pungent skunk odour which he and Joe Sterns brought into the school? Solitude is great.

Joe too is chuckling to himself over some mysterious matter that may well have been their common misfortune. What does it matter now though? Winter is coming and Joe is looking forward to a good hockey season.

Fred Rider, our young sub quarterback for the first team, is humming in his husky tenor voice some hit song that he has picked up during the day. Freddie also came second in the junior cross-country race and ended one of the most closely contested races seen here for years.

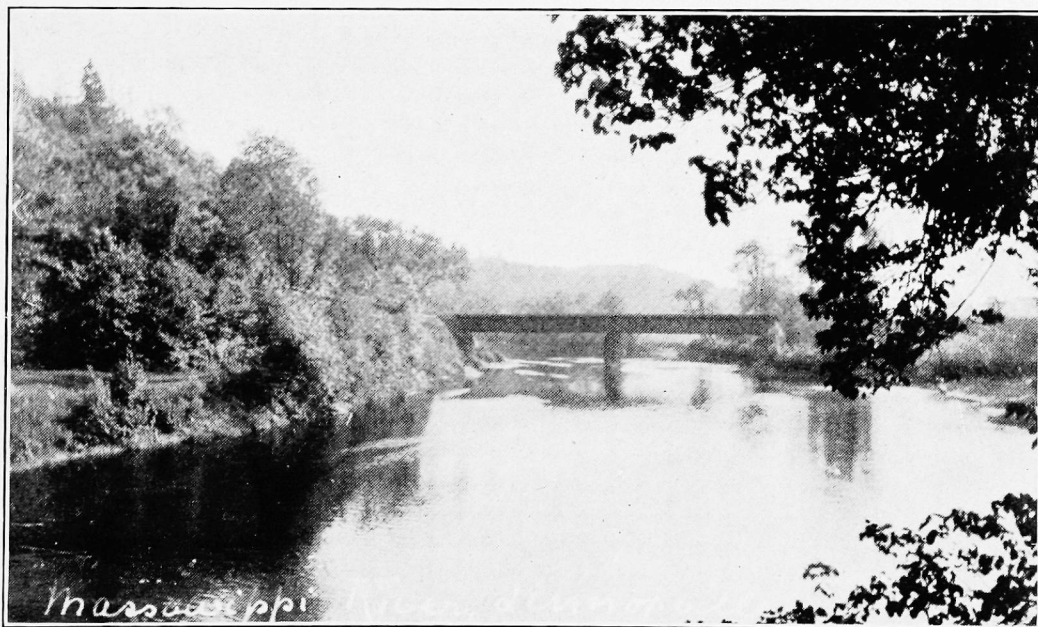

Joe Seely is at his desk doing some physics problems which seem to come second nature to him. It was only a few weeks ago that G.B. was patrolling the football field making sure that the team he was managing should continue training until the first snow-fall.

Set is stretched out on his bed thinking to himself of some scoop which he had recently sent in to the Gazette about a football game. He's president of the Debating Society and his general knowledge in all fields makes him an able speaker.

Well, there you have us all. Williams House is at its best and is thoroughly enjoyed by all who live therein.

We all extend our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Patriquin and wish them a joyous Yuletide and a happy New Year.

OLD SWIMMING POOL

*Ah me! to live the old days
over!
When I was a Prefect in embryo,
No happier heart the broad skies
cover!*

*I hunted for nests of partridge and
plover,
I knew where the sweetest
strawberries grow,
Ah me! to live the old days over!*

*I was a New Kid, you my slave
drover
Gave me a leg-up, a smile, and oh!
No happier heart the broad skies
cover!*

*You may laud the life of the merry
rover!
Give me my colours to win, heigh-ho!
Ah me! to live the old days over!*

*Oh! to live with you the old days
over!
If back to it all I could only go,
No happier heart the broad skies
cover!*

*Mid rustic huts my dreams still hover
With cedar-wood fires that charmed
us so,
Ah me! to live the old days over!*

*If Fortune would grant me just one
wish craved of her,
What should I ask for? Oh! well I know!
Ah me! to live the old days over,
No happier heart the broad skies cover!*

Seventh Form Notes

Willie frantically working—on something physicists can't get,
 Hick languishes his time in lusty novels; yet
 Don't think the Seventh Form's not working, do not even think it's lazy.
 It's a beehive of gaiety, from overwork they're all going crazy.

That time of year thou may'st in me find still
 Fond signs of love and not pre-exam fear
 And singing sweet songs not of Jack, but Jill
 You'll know I'm making my ten grand a year.
 We often fight out French with our friend Slab
 Who for a pastime rides in a green car.
 We hear the listless lines of Gibbon-like Gab
 Who gains his point like Shelley's moth his star.
 Tired of all this for restful death we cry;
 We summon up remembrance of things past;
 Sowie lays his horns aside to sigh,
 "The price of pork chops has gone down at last."
 Latin medalled Martin wakes to yawn
 "If music be the food of love, play on!"

Sixth Form Notes

Introducing the Sixth we to you give,
 David Vass who's brain's a sieve;
 Of the Arnolds first is Bill
 Whose ambition's to manage a still;
 His brother Jeff's a man of steel,
 But to Charlie Atlas he's just a heel.
 David Brown will sail the sea,
 Though the navy is no cavalry.
 Little Mole, a studying runt,
 To argue with Fif's his favourite stunt.
 Big John Turpin, a genuine blond,
 Of the French class is really fond.
 Leonard Rowland the girls intrigues,
 Though masters do nothing but give him fatigues.
 Larry Giddings with flashy cravat
 Runs a hundred in nine seconds flat.
 Bradley Seager, a brain of the class,
 Teaches the boys so that they will pass.

While Norman with masters rarely agrees,
 No wonder he still has his difficulties.
 Skelton, the owner of a bass voice,
 About his injections has no choice.
 Vic Bennett comes from Codfish Row;
 His major ambition's to try to grow.
 George Seely's voice is deep and fine;
 He's always calling Caroline.
 Dougie's solid, square and hep;
 The masters want to curb his pep.
 Now all we hear from White is chatter
 About his getting ten in matter.
 A change in his voice made Bill a man,
 At least as much as anything can.
 George Huggett is growing now, we hear;
 Above the table he'll soon appear.
 Hart Price has dealt a terrible blow
 To the boys of first crease—his tackle was low!
 When Willie's on a pair of skis
 He tries in vain to miss the trees.
 We finish with Drifty, of goal-keeping fame;
 For writing this poem he won't take the blame.

Fifth Science Form Notes

This is the roll of those who say,
 Where there is peace, the Fifth won't stay:
 Duff Sweeny with indifferent looks
 Is chasing Sam with history books;
 And then there's Zep and also Zeke,
 Studying hard for their French matreek;
 Beke and Clupper, civil war;
 Says Willie, "Dull it to a roar."
 Walls and Pitfield, strange to say,
 Discussing people far away.
 Scholes is writing "to a friend"
 (A little mole around the bend);
 Parallel is proud to say,
 "I write a letter home each day."
 Luke is having a quiet nap,
 While Miller's working on his map.
 Jekill's cutting paper dolls,
 And Mickie's answering those 'phone calls.
 Doc and Bob try to define

A place on Midget's second line.
 Albert takes the dog train back,
 While Ducky gives a dandy quack.
 Granny Gordon's at the rear,
 For him Sixth Form is very near. Anon.

MACFARLANE:	Mickey's face has stunned the girls, He sets their hearts in whirling whirls.
MORGAN:	Bob is in the bugle band, Plays quarter, boy! we think you're grand.
OAKS:	Bright face Peter from across the border, Everything seems quite in order.

OGILVIE: Watson's wit is never low.
 Appropriate nickname: Sloppy Joe.
 PATTISON: Bobby's French marks are quite bad,
 But Bobby seems to be quite the lad.
 PRICE III: Rabbit plays on Second Crease,
 His football efforts never cease.
 RIDER: Fred, sub-quarter, on the football team.
 That's one man who'll succeed I deem.
 ROWE: Silent Sam and sleepy too,
 This year, we understand, he's new.
 ROSS: Pokerface, president of the class,
 You can bet he's strict by his face, alas.
 SCHOLES I: Bill's our wrestler, a marvel boy.
 His muscles are made of tin alloy.
 STEARNS: Joe belongs to the lumberjack class.
 We doubt very much if he's liable to pass.

 And brains sometimes pass and are almost a gain.
 WHITEHEAD: Eddy sometimes skins a skunk,
 He tried it this term, and boy he'll flunk.
 WINKWORTH: Rud seems to like his permanent wave,
 Over him the masters rage and rave.

That is all, I hope you don't curse,

Yours, dear reader:

Three-A Form Notes

Eleven little scholars,
 Shut up in a den;
 One of them escaped
 And then there were ten.

Ten little scholars,
 Having quite a time;
 Little "Weems" was caught
 And the there were nine.

Nine little scholars,
 For line one was late;
 That was little Patterson,
 Leaving only eight.

Eight little scholars,
 Planned to go to heaven;
 Bird skipped to Sherbrooke
 And then there were seven.

Seven little scholars,
For Prefects getting sticks;
Calder got a sample
And then there were six.

Six little scholars,
Feeling quite alive;
Of a senior, Baird was victim;
Soon, there were five.

Five little scholars,
Wrestling on the floor;
Down went Ashworth
And then there were four.

Four little scholars,
A movie went to see;
Hickey was scared to death
And then there were three.

Three little scholars,
Marking first-crease field;
On the lime slipped Martin,
Another fate was sealed.

Two little scholars,
Basking in the sun;
Salter slowly melted
And then there was one.

One little scholar,
Dawson is his name;
And he lives on to tell
Of III-A and its fame. D.F.L.M.

Three-B Form Notes

In B.C.S. there is a class which bears the name III-B;
Great brains are hatching there, as anyone can see.
For instance there is Abbot, always full of fun;
And take a look at Martin, a master with a pun.
For sports its Frankie Willcox who knows what it's about;
Then take a glance at Sperdie who isn't so far out.
Whenever there are questions, you know from whence they come;
It must be either Pattee, or Tremmie, big and dumb.
While at the front sits Cohen, a second Bolivar;
You'll find in every lesson that he's the shining star.

Beside him sits our stout friend, whose name is Vitol Scheib;
 He's always getting muddled in an arithmetic web.
 Let's not forget Ted Workman, a very funny boy;
 You'll find in his opinion, to study is a joy!
 And also there's McMichael, who's quite the lad, 'tis said,
 Before one period's over, you know his brain is dead.
 But now there's tiny Bradley, a sensitive, bright child;
 He may just break your neck, but still he claims he's mild.
 Our good friend LeChevalier is another Charles Boyer;
 When he appears at Compton's dance, the girls all shout hurrah!
 Willis is another boy whose fame is far renowned;
 In fact to hear the way he talks you'd think he'd just been crowned.
 Of course there's Hoagy Carmichael, who on the piano's hot;
 But ask him who Beethoven was you'll find his memory's not.
 Jack Price is really "in the know" when the subject turns to planes,
 And yet there are still a few who doubt his sanity remains.
 Windsor's always trying hard to raise his marks to scratch;
 When detention's read, alas! he rarely has a batch.

THE KICKER — by Anon.

*I hate to be a kicker, I always long for peace,
 But the wheel that does the squeaking is the one that gets the grease!
 It's nice to be a peaceful soul and not too hard to please,
 But the dog that does the scratching is the one that gets the fleas!
 "I hate to be a kicker," means nothing in a show,
 For the kickers in the chorus are the ones that get the dough.
 The art of soft soap spreading is a thing that palls and stales,
 But the guy that wields the hammer is the guy that drives the nails.
 Let us not put any notions that are harmful in your head,
 But the baby that keeps yelling is the baby that*

Thanksgiving Day

ANNUAL PRIZE-GIVING

With many distinguished guests, hundreds of parents, Old Boys and members of His Majesty's services present, the Thanksgiving week-end activities at Bishop's College School came to an impressive close with the annual prize-giving held in the large school auditorium, and presided over by Major E. deL. Greenwood, retiring chairman of the Board. Guest of honor at the prize-giving was Canada's youngest Brigadier, Bob Moncel, D.S.O., O.B.E., an Old Boy of the School (1927-34), who was recently appointed to that rank at the age of twenty-seven. Brigadier Moncel gave a short address following the Headmaster's annual report.

The Thanksgiving week-end festivities opened on Sunday morning, with two special services held in St. Mark's Chapel, conducted by the Rev. Sydney Childs. Yesterday morning, two football games were played on the School field. The first was between members of the School team and Old Boys, and the second between Old Boys in the Navy on one side and ex-students in the Army and Air Force on the other. The second was an innovation, and the first a regular B.C.S. Thanksgiving activity with several hundred spectators present for the game which ended in a tie.

Prize-giving proper began after lunch.

Major Greenwood, of Montreal, opened the ceremony by announcing several changes in the Board of Directors. Lt.-Col. W. W. Ogilvie will replace Major Greenwood, who has held the position of chairman for seven years. Col. Ogilvie has been very active in the Old Boys' Association, and has recently returned from Overseas, where he was a battalion commander in the Black Watch of Canada. Major Greenwood also expressed the gratitude of the Board to P. F. Sise, George H. Montgomery, W. W. Robinson and Mr. Justice Mackinnon, all retiring members of the Board of Directors.

(The Headmaster's Report appears on a previous page).

It was announced during the afternoon that the Old Boys' Association had donated a rugby-football trophy for competition between B.C.S. and Ashbury.

The report of the Preparatory School was given by Mr. W. A. Page, who welcomed Michael Wallace to the staff.

Assisted by Mr. F. R. Pattison, Assistant Headmaster, Brigadier Moncel distributed prizes.

In a short address, Brigadier Moncel declared that during the years of the war, "a sense of unity of purpose and a great comradeship made life easier." "During the heaven-sent opportunity of recess in England before the fight," Brig. Moncel said, "we got to know the men with whom we were going to fight."

Addressing the School directly, he stated that "as citizens of a young and great country, you will get out of it what you put in it." He urged them to attempt in some measure to replace "those that died that we might live."

"In war there are two kinds of units," said Brigadier Moncel, "the good ones and the bad ones. It is easier to whip a bad regiment into shape than it is to keep a good one up to standard. The same applies to a school, and on behalf of all the Old Boys, I thank Col. Grier for the splendid work he has done in keeping the standard of Bishop's College School on such a high level."

Hon. D. C. Abbott, K.C., Minister of National Defence, thanked Brig. Moncel.

"Even in this war of rapid promotions," the Minister stressed, "it is difficult to attain the rank of Brigadier at the age of 27. Brigadier Moncel is a typical B.C.S. boy, indeed one of the most outstanding."

Among the guests invited to attend the prize-giving were:

The football season was long and luckless. Eight successive games were played without a win. In the ninth and final game, however, the team turned on its old rivals, Sherbrooke High School — by now Eastern Townships Champions, and by whom the team had previously been badly beaten — and for fifty-five minutes of play gave them a real lesson in football. The result, 15-7 for the School, proved that, in spite of defeats, the team was not beaten.

Early turn-outs gave promise of a heavy wing line, and this promise was fulfilled. But the season demonstrated that, since bucking down the field is a slow process, a scoring team needs more than a wing line. The men behind were willing, but they were green, and their catching and passing were bad. Moreover, they were, on the whole, unenterprising. This fault was most apparent when it came to catching kicks. Most kicks, short or long, were allowed to bounce, and the bold running catch was hardly ever seen. All the halves could run hard and well when they took a notion to do so, but they often messed up their plays by colliding behind the line. On the other hand, their tackling was steady, and some of them did very useful work in opening up the holes for Arnold II, Skelton and McCall.

The coach did not succeed in getting the principles of football strategy across to the team, nor did he succeed in putting the fast plays into proper operation. For these melancholy omissions, he assumes the blame. An analysis of the season's scoring would show that, whereas our opponents nearly always scored first, we should nearly always have done so, because we were in a position to do it. That we did not, was the result of an exaggerated idea of the value of a touchdown. A five-point score is not always a "major" score, and one point very frequently is. It depends on the state of the game. A single point taken at the start of a match is often the crest of a wave on which your team rides until the final whistle blows. Moreover, a punt well and truly delivered to your enemy before he has had a chance to settle down is more than likely to lead to a fumble — and a five-point score. This appeared to be well understood by our opponents, but not by B.C.S., and thus we assumed an initial disadvantage in nearly every game.

It may take some time to bring the fast plays back, but it is to be hoped that they will come eventually. Fast plays require skill and practice, confidence, and clean handling of the ball. They establish a forward momentum which is hard to stop; they enable you to shift your blows rapidly from one point of attack to another, and before your opponent has had time to recover himself. They breed alertness in the team. Unfortunately, they are not the kind of play you can develop on the present second-crease field, so that they are likely to remain a novelty — and perhaps a mystery — until that celebrated quagmire is removed.

However, when all is said and done, the outstanding feature of the 1945 team was that it never gave up and that it finished scoring. With a little more luck it would have won several matches.

The team was well supplied with outside wings, of whom the best was White. Few plays really got away around his end, and few catchers skirted his area when he went down under the kicks. Fraser was first-rate in some matches and not so good in others. Ross was a late arrival, and will be a very useful end when he learns to go down fast, and go the whole way to the catcher. The middles and insides provided the team's outstanding players. Arnold II, Skelton, and McCall were consistent ground-gainers, and strong defensively. The insides were as solid as a rock, Arnold I on the left, and Satterthwaite on the right — or, for that matter, on either side of the line. Price I was a reliable snap-back and a hard player defensively, with a weakness for high tackles in the open. Gault's best game at quarter-back was the last one, when he ran well, mixed up the plays, kicked when he was supposed to, and fed the halves for long gains. Cleveland, at right half, was inconsistent, but often played a strong defensive game, and showed a good turn of speed when the coast was clear. Williams II at left half did a lot of tackling, and was strong in defensive work against forward passes. Hickey, at right three-quarter, played a plucky game throughout and ran for big gains in the later matches, but was weak in catching. Grey, the left three-quarter, was the best man in backfield, steady, sure, quick and cool. He will be heard from next year. At different times, spare players like Walls, who gained many yards against Sherbrooke, Rider, who was always ready to go in at quarter-back, Sweeny at snap or on the line, Vass at middle, Turpin at right half, and Pitfield, anywhere, gave a good account of themselves.

Football Notes

STANSTEAD DEFEATS BISHOP'S 16-5

The first game of the season was played at Stanstead in a continuous drizzle, and both teams fumbled the ball consistently, but Stanstead took advantage of the play throughout.

Long punts by Evans for Stanstead gave them a 6-0 lead at the end of the first half, all the points being scored on rouges.

In the third quarter Stanstead scored two more rouges, and Johnson ran across our line for a touchdown, and a convert gave them a 14-0 lead. Two more points on rouges for Stanstead at the beginning of the last quarter made it 16-0.

A revitalized B.C.S. team, determined not to be shut out, finally broke through Stanstead's line in a series of bucking plays which culminated in Gault's long forward pass to Cleveland, who ran the remaining forty yards for a touchdown ending the game in a 16-5 loss.

ASHBURY vs. B.C.S. Lost 5-2

Playing in cloudless and warm weather both teams relied on forward passes and bucks to gain their yards. The first quarter witnessed a scoreless see-saw battle with both teams coming dangerously close to each other's goal line.

In the second quarter a 30 yard pass from Gault to Fraser placed the School team inside Ashbury's 25 yard line, and Gault scored a rouge to end the half after Ashbury had fumbled the ball.

Ashbury took quick advantage of Elliot's 25 yard buck to score their only touchdown. Their kick was fumbled behind our goal line and Smith pounced on the loose ball.

Although the School staged a desperate rally in the last quarter with J. Arnold bucking his way for fifteen and twenty yard gains, we were only capable of scoring a rouge by Gault at the end of the game.

B.C.S. TI'S OLD BOYS IN ANNUAL GAME. 5-5

The annual Old Boy's game against the School was again played in an atmosphere of friendly rivalry and neither team could boast of a win.

Fielding close to sixty players, the Old Boys got off to a good start when Windsor plunged fifteen yards for a touchdown. This play was set up by A. Finley's fifty yard pass to Wregg. White blocked the convert and the first half ended with the Old Boys leading five to nothing.

The alternating of teams by the Old Boys no longer baffled our boys. A strong offensive play by the Arnold brothers placed the School close to the Old Boys' goal line. Gault finally relayed a short pass to Cleveland, who ran the remaining yards for the tying touch.

B.C.S. vs. S.H.S. Lost 29-0

Playing on their own field, S. H. S. downed the School twenty-nine to nothing in their first encounter of the year.

Sherbrooke took advantage of Waldie's short, accurate passes and Paulette's deceptive end runs to score a touchdown in the first, second and last quarter and two in the third. Three converts were successful, and one rouge was scored in the last quarter.

The only consolation the team could get from the loss was White's superb tackling and W. Arnold's tremendous drive, which time and again held back a vastly superior S. H. S. team.

B.C.S. vs. ASHBURY. Lost 19-6

Playing in Ottawa, the School lost the second game of a home and home series against Ashbury 19-6. Although the score shows a definite lack of B.C.S. scoring ability, the team nevertheless carried the play to Ashbury for over half of the game.

In the first quarter, both teams played cautious football and no points were scored. Then Ashbury took advantage of our fumble to score a touchdown and convert by Richardson. This was shortly followed by another touch on an end run by Brown, ending the half with Ashbury leading, eleven to nothing.

B. C. S. wasted no time in the second half and a series of spectacular bucks by J. Arnold and Skelton, ably assisted by Hickey's end run and cross buck, placed us on Ashbury's five yard line, and we were only able to get a rouge on a kick by Gault. Richardson then kicked another rouge for Ashbury.

Gault's forward to Williams was successful for a fifty yard gain and J. Arnold bucked for a touchdown. The convert failed.

Mingie then scored Ashbury's last touchdown on a buck and Richardson converted successfully to end the game with Ashbury leading 19-6.

STANSTEAD DEFEATS B.C.S. 20-12

In the second game of the year on our home grounds, Stanstead came back in the second half to score twenty points and snatch the game out of our hands.

Gault's fifteen yard dash and steady bucking by J. Arnold and Skelton enabled us to gain a one to nothing lead on a rouge at the end of the first quarter.

J. Arnold's and Skelton's bucks again combined in the second half for the first touchdown by Arnold, making it six to nothing for the School. Gault then kicked a rouge and the half ended with a seven nothing lead for us.

In the second half Gould got a touchdown for Stanstead on a steamroller and Piper converted. B.C.S. then came back when Gray fell on a Stanstead fumble and Gault carried the ball over the line on a steamroller making it twelve nothing for the School. Then Stanstead scored a field goal and from then on it was completely Stanstead's play. Batten bucked for five points and the convert was successful. Johnson then ended the game when he got a touchdown which was unconverted, giving Stanstead a 20-12 win.

L.C.C. DEFEATS B.C.S. ON HOME GROUNDS. 7-0

This game was played in extremely cold weather and the ball was frequently fumbled by both sides. L.C.C. opened the scoring in the first half on a rouge by Young and continued the scoring in the second half on a rouge and an unconverted touchdown by Lapond.

White and W. Arnold both played stellar football and their consistent tackling of the opposing team always brought forth cheering from the Old Boys and friends of the School who were on the sidelines.

L.C.C. WINS SHIRLEY RUSSELL CUP

L.C.C. won the second game of the annually contested home and home series and won possession of the Shirley Russell Cup for one year.

Darling's superb kicking in the worst weather conditions seen here this year, gave L. C. C. an early lead on a rouge and a converted touchdown by Young in the first half.

Shortly after L. C. C.'s first rouge, B. C. S. opened a brilliant aerial attack which saw them carry the ball from their own twenty yard line to L.C.C.'s one yard line. Gray, Williams, and Hickey were the main factors in this onrush. However, only a rouge was scored by Gault and the half ended in a seven to one lead for L.C.C.

Rain completely stopped the School's forward passes in the second half and we resorted to J. Arnold and McCall to carry the brunt of our offensive but a muddy field slowed them down. L.C.C. ended the scoring with a touchdown by Martin and a successful convert to make it 13-0.

SHERBROOKE HIGH LOSES TO B.C.S. 15-7

Scoring the major upset of the season, the School triumphed handily over the highly vaunted Sherbrooke High School team on November 7th.

Bill Arnold scored our first touchdown in the first quarter when he fell on a fumbled Sherbrooke High ball behind their own line. Les Gault had just kicked from the forty yard line, and White had tackled the S.H.S. man. Gault converted successfully. Waldie then kicked the first rouge for S.H.S.

In the second quarter J. Arnold and Walls bucked their way to the S.H.S. forty-yard line. Gault then received a thirty yard pass from Gray and Jeff Arnold carried the ball over the line to make it 11-1. The convert failed. Gault then kicked a rouge for B.C.S.

A beautiful display of short passes and end runs by White, Gray, and Hickey, placed the School in a scoring position, and Gault kicked a field goal to make it 15-1. S.H.S. then rallied and Waldy's accurate passes to Jackson completed their first touchdown. The convert was successful and the game ended with S.H.S. trailing 15-7.

Players who were also conspicuous for the School were Price, R. Williams, Ross, McCall, and Cleveland, as all of them turned in a good game of tackling or running.

JUNIOR RUGBY

The 1945 Junior rugby season leaves a definite impression on the minds of those who took part in it. The impression is one of mud. Seldom has it rained so consistently as in the past season, and the overburdened tiles which normally drain off the surplus water from Second Crease were quite unable to cope with the downpour and, as far as we could judge, gave up in despair after the middle of October. Nevertheless, the House League waded through a thrilling, if truncated schedule, and Tommy Price's versatile warriors finished their season on top of the heap, unbeaten and untied. As a fitting climax Dork Jones returned an almost certain punt-for-rouge from behind his own line, into touch, for the final play of the season, and thus staved off a determined Hartt bid for at least a tie with the 1945 Champions.

Sixteen-and-under played a home and home series with Stanstead Juniors, and an exhibition with L.H.S., without winning. They contributed three mid-season graduates to First Crease, of whom one, Gray, played regularly on First Team.

If suggestions are in order for improvement next year, we recall the tendency of too many players to tackle at waist level or higher, and a definite reluctance on the part of the quarterbacks to get the ball out to the second man on end runs. Our game with Lennoxville showed what consistent passing practice does,—the Villagers completed far too many for our ground attacks to match in first downs. We lacked practiced deception in our back-field, too, but a great deal of that can be excused; it was invariably hard enough to maintain a footing in the grease without meeting mild disaster.

Third Crease romped through a six-man schedule on the comparative dryness of the lower field, with Lawrence I's team taking the honours. From casual and hurried observation there will be much open play on Second Crease next year by the old Sixers.

The Senior House League standing follows:

	Won	Lost	Draw	Points
Price's	7	0	0	14
Hartt's	2	5	0	4
Schole's	1	5	0	2

Members of the 1945 House Champions are as follows:

Price II, Bennett, Gordon, Jones, (Gray), Burland, Sim, Price IV, Almond, McMaster, Jamieson, Tremaine, Ogilvie, Boswell, Porter, Giddings.

Junior House League:	Won	Lost	Draw	Points
Lawrence I	10	1	1	21
Scholes II	5	6	1	11
Ballantyne	2	10	0	4

Members of the Junior House Champions:

Lawrence I (Captain), Ashworth, Baird, Bird, Cohen, Martin II, McMichael, Patterson, Pollard, Salter.

CROSS-COUNTRY RACES

This year's races attracted sixty-three starters, all of whom finished in better than usual time, though no new records were set.

Solomon, in the Senior Boswell Cup race, ran three seconds behind Hickey's 1944 course record, and Gray's 22 min. 48 sec., was 17 secs. slower than the mark set by Tony Dobell in 1941, for the Heneker Trophy. Gray beat Rider to the tape in as fine a finish as we have seen in the Junior event, a short stride separating the runners as Gray lunged across the cord. Solomon ran a beautiful race in the Senior event, too, and might have given Hickey a strong argument, had the latter been able to defend his double title.

The first ten winners in each group follow:

Boswell Cup, Senior Cross Country: Solomon, Williams II, Satterthwaite, Pitfield, Bennett, Jamieson, Price IV, Boswell, Sweeny, McCall.

Junior C.C., Heneker Trophy: Gray, Rider, McCulloch, Collier, Almond, LeChevalier, Furse, Windsor, Ashworth, Bird.

Chapman House repeated its win in the Senior Team race, and "E" Dormitory nosed out Williams House "G" for the Junior Shield.

This was, perhaps, the most amusing race of the day. The entries were plentiful, and the two smallest boys in the School won. It is only fair to them to say that they would have had the same good fortune had their start been very much less than in fact it was.

ENTERPRISE

This rare cut of the little steamer "Enterprise" was erroneously captioned in our last issue.

* * * *

".....For some summers she ran regularly from Windsor Mills to Lennoxville; of course stopping at Sherbrooke on the way. She spent the night alternately at Windsor Mills and Lennoxville, where she used to put up for the night in the little creek on the mainland side of Butternut Island. She always had plenty of passengers.

But one fine night, when she had a large number of passengers on the upper deck, she put in to "Butternut Creek" for the night, and tied up as usual to a couple of trees. By some accident, a man fell overboard with a splash. He was in no danger of being drowned, but all the passengers on the upper deck rushed to the side to see the fun. The boat slowly careened, rolled over on her side, and sank."

DEBATING SOCIETY

1879

A CORNER OF THE HOOVER LIBRARY

OFFICERS FOR 1945-1946

Chairman	/	/	/	R. L. YOUNG
President	/	/	/	R. C. SETLAKWE
Chief Secretary	/	/	/	P. F. BRONFMAN
Secretary	/	/	/	N. G. COUREY
Treasurer	/	/	/	H. B. BIGNELL
M. C.	/	/	/	A. C. ABBOT

As the Society is on the point of celebrating its Silver Jubilee, the present members salute all former members whose loyalty has kept a Society — where work and conflict is the watchword and amusement only incidental — going, without a break all those years, and thus creating a record.

* * * * *

We were very pleased, indeed, to welcome back George W. Baker, now Member of Parliament. He recalled pleasant memories of 21 years ago, and gave us a very frank account of his first speech, here, in the Debating Society. New members wouldn't worry so much, we think, about their feeling during their maiden speeches if they were aware that such feelings are almost universal.

(From B.C.S. 1924)

"BAKER, Negative, instead of employing the customary preface: "Mr. Chairman, Officers and Members of Bishop's College School Debating Society", addressed the house as "Ladies and Gentlemen". The startled Chairman shouted "Hey". Obviously alarmed, Baker corrected himself amid great laughter and applause."

* * * * *

SOME OF THE DEBATES:

The opening meeting of the 1945-46 Session took place in the Hooper Library on September the twenty-second. It was HAT NIGHT. Very promising speakers made their maidens; two medallists were back and a few O. M's.

The speakers were: Setlakwe, Bennett, Bronfman, Courey, Furse, Bignell, Abbott, Willcox, Sperdakos, Salter, Willis, Oaks, Morkill, Wall and Tremain.

The second meeting of the society was on September the Twentieth:

The motion before the House was: "That this Society is of the opinion that the atomic bomb is a menace to society."

ABBOTT opened for the affirmative, and in an excellent maiden, demonstrated the impossibility of keeping it a secret among kindly disposed nations, and, as all nations are not so minded, some will still promote war with disastrous results. He therefore appealed to the House to vote for the affirmative.

OAKS opened for the negative, and in another excellent maiden, maintained that it was not a menace to man as a whole and that its use indicated a short war.

BRONFMAN, affirmative, argued that although the inventor of gunpowder exclaimed that he had found a means to put an end to all wars it had only hastened them. "Warships and aircraft threatened destruction to nations: the submarine and anti-aircraft were invented to counteract them. It is possible that the atomic bomb will have its converse," he concluded.

TREMAIN, a very promising new member, basing his arguments on control and paralleling them with other such serious situations in the world's history, maintained that there would be nothing to fear when control of the atomic bomb was established.

SALTER contended that it would not be a menace if put to legitimate use, but thought it wise forethought to keep its secret guarded for the present. (Good maiden.)

BIGNELL, in a very convincing speech, asserted that atomic energy was no menace to society, but, on the contrary, a giant step forward in the march of science and understanding among nations.

COUREY I, speaking with steadily increasing confidence and poise, expressed his fear that Russia, whose enormous deposits of uranium would give her an outstanding position, might endanger world peace.

BENNETT declared emphatically that it was not now a question of our controlling the atom but whether atomic energy would control us.

FURSE asserted that this discovery had widened the gap between nations. "Atomic energy must be harnessed and utilized for peace," he concluded.

SPERDAKOS, another very promising new member, declared that it was not only a menace to Japan but a disaster. He queried whether—since two wrongs do not make a right—it wouldn't have been more humane to show Japan its baleful effects before destroying her cities.

WALL, in an outstanding maiden, argued convincingly that the use of atomic bombs had saved more than a million lives of our men. He stood aghast at the potency of its destructive powers, which he vividly depicted to us.

MORKILL, in another excellent maiden, gave us a picture of the destruction of the steel tower protecting the atomic bomb and argued that if, in its initial stage, it could cause such ruin, laying waste of nations can easily follow.

SETLAKWE, our new President and winner of the Chairman's Medal, has assumed the predilection of speaking last and indulging in good humoured tirades against some unwary speaker, considers that atomic energy will help society industrially as well as militarily. "We must not think of war but of peace. If we are civilized let us act as rational civilized beings. It is now either peace or utter obliteration and extinction of mankind; we have no other choice", he concluded.

The openers having summed up for their respective sides, the House divided.

The motion was carried 10-5

The motion before the House on October 13th was: "England made a mistake in not re-electing Churchill."

The motion was lost 5-10.

* * * * *

"That Canada should join the United States" was the motion on November 10th.

The motion was lost.

* * * * *

"That the Liberal party has been and will be the best party in Canada", was the motion on November the 17th.

The motion was lost.

The Players' Club

With the proposed production of a Gilbert & Sullivan opera ahead of the School, the Players' Club was limited this year to a programme of three one-act plays which are to be performed on December the 6th. It is to be hoped that these plays will uncover acting talent which may find fuller expression in the opera later on.

Each play has its own company, including technical crew, and Lorne Walls as Stage Manager in Chief, Tom Cresswell as Chief Electrician, and Peter Winkworth in charge of the Costume Room oversee the individual crews.

The programme is to start with "Bimbo, the Pirate", a comedy by Booth Tarkington. This play stars Norman Solomon as Bimbo, and the cast includes John and Don Lawrence, Eric Hickey, Dick Bradley and Mickey Macfarlane.

The second play is "The Watch Scenes" from Shakespeare's "Much Ado About Nothing". Paul Almond takes the leading part of Dogberry, the famous policeman, and Bill Scholes that of his "stooge", Verges. John Ross and John Scholes are policemen, Tim Ballantyne and Bob Morgan play Conrad and Borachio, Don Lawrence is Leonato, Robert Hartt is a page and John Pollard plays the sexton.

The last play on the evening's bill is "Banquo's Chair", a modern detective-thriller by Rupert Croft-Cooke. Bill Boswell and Don Faerman have the leading parts in this play, and are supported by Robin Miller and Leonard Rowland, Tom Price and Don Lawrence.

Le Club Français

This year the club commenced its tenth year, with eighteen members enrolled, under Mr. Hall's direction. Meetings are held on Saturday evenings and last an hour and a half. French is spoken except where English is necessary to explain the rules for some of the games. Each Saturday, two of the members act as chairmen and prepare the evening's programme.

Among the games played to increase our vocabulary are: "J'ai mis dans la malle de ma grand'mère — — —", "Mots contraires", "Lettres mélangées", "Breaking up words into smaller ones", "Forming words containing a specified number of letters or certain letters of the alphabet" and "Completing words with missing letters".

To improve and test comprehension, "Histoires", often with amusing endings, are read by Mr. Hall. Several new and previously untried games were played and proved most successful by the club. The increase in members this year made possible a spelling bee which was very well conducted and received.

Variety has always been the club's goal and so far this year it has been reached. To stimulate competition, individual scores are kept each evening — much to the embarrassment of some of the members.

B. SEAGER.

The Recreation Club

For a long time the B.C.S. Recreation Club has existed only on paper, but this year the Headmaster revived it, and it now exists in its proper form. The whole school constitutes the Recreation Club, and a committee represents them at all the meetings. This year the following are the members of this committee: President, the Headmaster; Vice-President, Mr. Patriquin; Head Prefect, Satterthwaite; Football Captain, Arnold I; Hockey Captain, Gault; Cricket Captain, Sewell; Cadet Corps Member, Cleveland; VII Form Member, Martin I; VI Form Member, Seely; V Arts Member, Howard; V Science Member, Pitfield; IV Form Member, Ballantyne II; III-A Member, Bird; III-B Member, Bradley; and Assistant Secretary, Boswell.

The first thing that had to be done was the writing of a constitution. The following has been approved by the committee, and awaits the satisfaction of the club as a whole:

1. MEMBERSHIP: All boys of the Preparatory, Middle and Upper schools shall be members of the Recreation Club.
2. FEE: The membership fee shall be $12.00 per annum or any like amount designated by the Board of Directors as the annual game fee.

4. COMMITTEE: The whole of the above shall be known as the Committee of the Recreation Club.
5. MEETINGS: The Committee shall meet once a week. In the absence of the President, the Vice-President will take the chair.
6. MINUTES AND BOOKS: The Assistant Secretary-Treasurer will keep the minutes of meetings, and the books of the club.
7. RESOLUTIONS: The decisions of the Committee shall be put in the form of resolutions moved and seconded. Each member of the committee shall have one vote. In case of a tie, the President will give the casting vote.
8. BUSINESS: The business of the Committee shall be considered to be all matters connected with:
 - a. The protection, upkeep and repair of playing areas, i.e. playing fields, tennis courts, rink, etc.

 - c. Policy governing the award of school colours and crests for athletics.
 - d. Design of school athletic crests.

- e. Appropriation of Recreation Club funds for expenses arising from athletics and games.
 - f. Reporting and recording of results of athletic contests with outside teams and clubs.
 - g. Reporting and recording of results of annual track and field sports.
 - h. Any other matter which may from time to time fall within the jurisdiction of the Committee.
9. EXPENDITURE OF FUNDS: No expenditure of money from the membership fee shall be made without previous authority of the Committee.
10. DUTIES: The captain of each sport will be responsible for business connected with it. He will submit motions for the voting of funds to pay the costs of his particular sport. He will prepare an inventory of the playing areas and athletic gear for which he is responsible. He may be assisted by a manager who will not be a member of the Committee.
11. VETO: The President shall have the right to veto any resolution which is financially unwise or is detrimental to the best interests of the School.
12. AMENDMENTS: Amendments to the constitution shall be passed by a four fifths majority of the committee after at least two weeks notice of motion.

The Committee has met four times, and has already covered a good deal of ground:-

The results of all outside games are recorded in the Committee's minutes: arrangements have been made for the proper press reports of athletic events: members of the Committee are in charge of the expenditures for different sports: the award of crests and colours for teams has been regularized and the design of these crests has been recorded for future reference. In short, all matters connected with the recreation of the School have come, or are coming, under review.

A B.C.S. OLD BOY
PRESENTED TO THE SCHOOL BY HIS WIFE, CHILDREN AND GRANDCHILDREN

This year the Preparatory School is glad to welcome seventeen new boys: Angus, Baird, Bishop, Cantlie, Cohen, Dixon, Downs, Hobart, Hugessen, Hutchison, McCulloch, Mitchell, Peirce, Scheib III, Stewart-Patterson, Willcox, and Williams III. We all hope they enjoy their days in the Prep. We also welcome Mr. Wallace, an Old Boy of the Preparatory School, who is helping us with sports and teaching in the lower forms. We all like him very much and we hope he is enjoying it too.

Eight boys went into the Upper School, while four left for England: Paul Cohen, Peter Donner, David Monier-Williams, and Adrian van Millingen. We wish them all the best of luck.

W. W. BAGDER

THE SOCCER SEASON

The Prep. team, under Mr. Farthing's direction, had a very successful season, winning back the cup which Selwyn House last year took from us for the first time. Of six games played we won five and tied the other, scoring 14 goals and having only one scored against us.

Our forward line was very fast and had the advantage of having a strong half-line consisting of Bishop, Mather and Riley. Goodridge II, our goalkeeper, though small for the position, played an excellent game all through the season. Of the forwards Neil and Setlakwe were probably the outstanding players; Neil, at centre, scoring 7 goals, and Setlakwe, 4.

The team was as follows: Goalkeeper, Goodridge II; Backs, McCulloch and Popham; Halfbacks, Bishop, Mather and Riley; Forwards, Setlakwe (Capt.), Rankin, Neil, Bagder, Mackie.

MICHAEL McCULLOCH

SECOND CREASE SOCCER

Everybody seems to have improved from last year's soccer. Under the able guidance of Mr. Wallace we have been able to do very well. Boys who deserve special comment are: Cohen, Baird, Downs, Parker, Findlay, Turnbull, Stewart-Patterson, Hart, and Whitehead. Williams did so well that he was promoted to First Crease. TERRY GRIER.

SOCCER LEAGUES

The first soccer league started soon after the Prep Team won the Wanstall Cup. The teams consisted of ten boys each under the names of: Mackie's Hawks, Neil's Eagles, Goodridge II's Vultures and Setlakwe's Vampires. Neil's team were victors, winning five games and tying one, with Setlakwe's team a good second.

In the second league the teams were named after hockey clubs: Bishop's Maple Leafs, McCulloch's Black Hawks, Badger's Red Wings and Mather's Bruins. This time Badger's Red Wings won all their games while Mather's Bruins came second with three wins and one tie.

To end the soccer season, a game was played between the Eleven-year-olds and the Twelve-year olds. Neil was the Captain of the Twelve-year olds and Badger was the Captain of the Eleven-year-olds. Neil's team won a hard fought game by the score of 4-2.

BRUCE HUTCHISON

THANKSGIVING WEEK-END

Thanksgiving weekend this year was of considerable importance, being the first peace-time Thanksgiving since 1938. There was a great number of Old Boys here, which made it necessary to have two chapel services, one for the parents, and one for the Old Boys.

Most of the parents arrived on Saturday in time to take their boys out to supper. Sunday was spent very quietly: in the morning there were the two chapel services, and in the afternoon the majority of the boys went out with their parents. Many of those whose parents could not be present were invited out by other boys.

On Monday morning, after the Upper School rugby match against the Old Boys, the Prep had an art exhibition, in which everything the boys had made this year was shown. After lunch, which this year was in two sittings, the prizes for the year's academic work were presented in the gym. When this was over most of the parents went home, and all the Prep went to the tea-dance, where many of the older boys made their first efforts at dancing.

That night everybody went to bed tired, but happy.

HALLOWE'EN PLAYS

Hallowe'en was celebrated on Saturday, Nov. 3rd, with a chicken dinner followed by the annual Dorm plays, all of which were a great success.

Dorm II's play, produced by Mr. Page, was called 'The Dormitory Ghost'. It had a good plot and was very well acted by the Baby Dorm, who made it both interesting and exciting.

The plays of Dorm III and Dorm I both had a lot of action in them, the former being about gangsters and kidnapping, and the latter about a mad scientist and his victims. They were both very good.

Remove Dorm put on one of the best plays, produced by Hugessen. It was called 'The Oriental Ruby', and was very weird and mysterious.

We wish to express our thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Page for their gifts of apples and candies, and also for helping to make our Hallowe'en such a happy one. A. MATHER

THE TRIP TO HATLEY

On Sunday, Nov. 4th, the whole choir was invited to sing at St. James Church, Hatley. The choir travelled by bus, while Mr. and Mrs. Page, Miss Reyner and Hugessen, a choir helper, went by car. It was quite a short trip and when we arrived, we immediately changed into our cassocks and surplices. The service went off quite nicely, and various people in the congregation were kind enough to make nice comments on our singing. Soon afterwards we were invited down to the Hatley Town Hall, where some of the ladies kindly prepared a most enjoyable lunch. By 1.15 we were all on our way home having enjoyed our morning very much.

P. JEKILL

ART AND HANDICRAFT

We are very glad to have Mrs. Jones back with us again this year and we appreciate her patience with us.

In Remove we have been making trucks and drawing Christmas cards; Form III-A have been making trains and doing all sorts of drawings; and III-B have been making horse-shoe games and masks for Hallowe'en, as well as drawing Christmas cards.

There was an exhibition at Thanksgiving when all the best drawings and wood-work were put on show. It was a very good exhibition, we all think.

There were some very good drawers in last year's Remove, especially Martin III and Ashworth. In this year's Remove the best drawers are McCulloch, Bishop, Neil and Jekill, while the best in III-A and B are Mather, Berlyn and Chapman.

On Thanksgiving Day Porter was awarded a prize for his excellent work in wood-work.

THE LIBRARY

We have nearly a thousand books in the Library. We are greatly indebted to those who have donated some very good books this term: Mrs. Boswell, Mrs. Finley, Mr. Grier, Peter Donner, Philip Bird and David Baird.

Mystery and Reference books seem to be the most popular among the boys.

Mr. McMann has again been in charge, while the two library assistants are Spafford and Neil.

CLEVELAND NEIL

MOVIES

The movies this term were very interesting, although we have not had as many as last year, due to the fact that the bulb in our projector burnt out, so that for a little while we shall not have any more movies. Among the best of the movies that we have had this term are: Bahamas to Jamaica, Little Friend of the Wild, The Golden Journey, Beautiful Bermuda, Street Safety for Junior Grades, Big Game Parade, Adventures of Peter, Life in the Sahara and Ride'Em Cowboy.

We have also gone to a few movies in the Upper School which were also very good, including: Foreign Correspondent, Peck's Bad Boy at the Circus, and The Leopard Man.

CHESS AND CHECKER TOURNAMENT

One Saturday night in November after the soccer season, we had a chess and checker tournament in the common room. As a lot of boys entered, there was stiff competition and much good play.

Ten boys entered the chess tournament and twelve entered the checker. In the checker tournament Hutchison and Goodridge I were in the finals. Goodridge finally won after a long and trying game. In the chess tournament Whitehead and Bishop were in the finals. Whitehead won after an exciting game. Mackie, a good player, who was in the semi-finals, did not manage to get into the finals.

We all hope that there will be another tournament soon.

STAMP COLLECTING

Stamp collecting is an important hobby in the Prep School this year. Quite a number of boys, many of whom only started this year, are interested in it. A large number of stamps have been traded.

The boys most concerned in the stamp trade are: Spafford, Jekill, Peirce, Mackie, Goodridge I and II, Hugessen, Bishop, Riley, Willcox and myself. Those who have smaller collections are: Miller, Mitchell, Rankin, Neil, Porter, Hutchison, Hart, Mather, Cantlie, and Badger. Some other boys have good collections at home. Mitchell, though he has quite a small collection, has some very good stamps.

T. PARKER

MODEL AEROPLANES

Model aeroplane building is one of the Prep's many hobbies. In our spare time, the classrooms generally have at least one builder working on a plane and when we are working there is generally a terrible mess of spare parts littered about the room.

About fourteen people have been building aeroplanes in the Prep, including Badger, Berlyn, Mather, Porter, Rankin, Riley, Setlakwe, Williams and Neil. We have made some pretty good planes this term, but we all hope to make some still better ones in future.

THE OLD BOY

Oh, tell me what I learned in those few years
When treble turned to bass and boy to man,
When adult thoughts grew out of childish fears
To find what I have sought since life began?
The future stretches out for me to win,
And I will win and conquer all for thee;
For thee, dear School, I will not fall to sin,
Nor waver on the road, and thou shalt see
My triumph in the end. For I have learned
To love all beauty and to hate the bad,
The sordid pitfalls into which some turned.
For thee, dear School, which trained me, I am glad
To face the world and overcome all things
With zest and faith for what the future brings.

FIRE OF LIFE

Oh fire of life, burn brightly in the hearth;
Pile on New Logs for those which are burned out;
Let there be many, lest there be a dearth.

Oh fire of life, thy crackling is too loud.
Why dost thou throw thy brightest embers off?
For look, they fade and die; their heads are bowed.

Oh fire of life, thy flames may fade and when
They do, then seek and find thy driest logs
And spread thy warmth and build thy blaze again.

SELWYN BLAYLOCK DIES IN 67th YEAR

Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company Chairman had Outstanding Career

Selwyn Gwilym Blaylock, one of Canada's leading citizens, and chairman and former president of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited, died yesterday at Trail, B.C., after a lengthy illness.

He is survived by his wife, the former Kathleen Louise Riddle, whom he married in 1918; a son and three daughters. His first wife was the former Rupera Margaret Riddle.

Mr. Blaylock was born in Paspebiac, Quebec, on February 18, 1879, the son of Very Rev. Thomas Blaylock of Ulverston, England, and Eleanor Marion Lowndes Blaylock, of Quebec, Que. He was educated at Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Que., and at McGill University, where he graduated in metallurgy in 1899. He moved to British Columbia in 1899 and became assayer with the Canadian Smelting Works at Trail in the same year, joining the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company as chief chemist in 1901. Since that time, Mr. Blaylock has been metallurgist, general superintendent, became assistant general manager in 1911, general manager in 1919, director in 1922, vice-president in 1927, managing director in 1938, president and managing director in 1939, chairman and president in 1943, and chairman in 1945, when he retired as president of the company. He was also vice-president and director of Coast Copper Company Limited and a director of Electrolytic Zinc Process Company, Montana, Buena Vista Mining Company, and the Bank of Montreal.

Mr. Blaylock was a governor of McGill University and a Commander of the Venerable Order of St. John of Jerusalem and has received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws from both McGill and Alberta Universities. He received the following honors in metallurgy; the McCharles Prize from the University of Toronto in 1942; the James Douglas Medal from the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgy in 1928; a platinum medal from the International Nickel Company in 1935 and a gold medal from the Institution of Mining and Metallurgy, London, in 1939. In 1934 he was president of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy and was an honorary member of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

Mr. Blaylock belonged to the University Club, Montreal, as well as to the St. James' Club and the Mount Royal Club in this city. He was a keen tennis player, golfer, hunter and fisherman.

Tribute was paid to him by D. C. Coleman, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and chairman of the executive committee and vice-president of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company of Canada Limited. Mr. Coleman said: "Selwyn G. Blaylock, measured in terms of practical achievements, was one of the greatest Canadians of his time. His contributions to metallurgy were recognized and acclaimed in Canada, the United States and in the United Kingdom. He was responsible for the development of the Consolidated works at Trail into one of the world's most important chemical and metallurgical plants. But above all, he will be remembered for his fine human qualities—his heart overflowed with good will—he took the keenest interest in the welfare of the employees and officers of his company, fully sharing all their joys and trials, and he displayed the same kindly interest in the fortune of all the many friends he accumulated during his busy life. In sorrow and in grateful affection they are united with his wife and his children to whom he was so devoted.

Tribute was also paid by P. E. Stewart of Montreal, president of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company, who said: "An outstanding mining and metallurgical engineer, Mr. Blaylock was directly responsible for building up the great company of which he was head from modest beginnings to the important position it now occupies as one of the leading mining and metallurgical enterprises of the world. He will be particularly missed in educational and philanthropic circles in which he was keenly interested. The country has lost one of its leading citizens of the type which is responsible for the important place occupied by Canada in the world today.

Obituary

The diocese of Fredericton mourns one of its most devoted laymen in the death of Beverley R. Armstrong which occurred recently at his home in Rothesay, after a lingering illness.

RENDERED OUTSTANDING SERVICE

As a layman of the Church of England he had rendered outstanding service. He was a member of the Fredericton Diocesan Synod as well as of the synod executive committee, its board of finance, its committee on constitution and canons and its committee in charge of beneficiary funds as well as the board of governors of Rothesay Collegiate School.

Mr. Armstrong took an active part in the work of all the committees of which he was a member and also served ably on innumerable sub-committees to which special tasks were assigned. At the last meeting of the diocesan synod, Mr. Armstrong was made an honorary member of the diocesan board of finance in recognition of his valuable services given over a long period of years.

Beverley Robinson Armstrong was born in Saint John, Feb. 19, 1875, son of the late John Russell Armstrong, Saint John County court judge, and the late Louisa (Robinson) Armstrong, who was a great granddaughter of Col. Beverley Robinson who commanded the Loyal American Regiment during the Revolutionary War.

Mr. Armstrong attended Bishop's College School, Lennoxville, Que., and later entered the University of New Brunswick where he received the degree of bachelor of arts. He subsequently studied law at King's College obtaining the degree of B.C.L. In 1899 he was admitted to the bar of New Brunswick as an attorney and on his return from South Africa in 1901 was admitted as a barrister.

For many years he was identified with the Canadian militia. When only 13 years of age he enlisted in the then 3rd New Brunswick Regiment of Garrison Artillery now the 3rd (N.B.) Coast Regiment. He served three years as bugler and three as a gunner when he was commissioned as a second lieutenant. He served through various ranks until he became lieutenant-colonel of the unit.

He was transferred to the regimental reserve Jan. 1, 1920, after 32 years of service.

James Bryce Allan, K.C., member of the Montreal family well known in Canadian and United Kingdom shipping circles, died Saturday at the Ross Memorial Pavilion after an illness of several months. He was in his 84th year.

Marie. Major Rothera was Captain of 1st XI Cricket in 1895.

Old Boys' Notes

All communications pertaining to these notes should be addressed to: H. L. Hall, M.A., B.C.S., Lennoxville, P.Q.

One of the best Thanksgiving week-ends at the School took place this year. Between 700 and 800 people were present, of whom about 125 were Old Boys. It was a real Thanksgiving, especially after six years of war, and a wonderful B.C.S. spirit prevailed. Amid our own rejoicings, we thrilled to hear the news that many of our heroic defenders at Hong-Kong had landed on Canadian or American soil during that week-end. Truly, a real Thanksgiving. We are happy to know that these gallant soldiers are re-united with their families, and once again we repeat a fervent wish for all the best they so richly deserve. And to the memory of those Old Boys who paid the supreme sacrifice, a second service, specially for the School and Old Boys, was held immediately after the usual Sunday Thanksgiving service. Bishop Williams participated and gave the Benediction. A short but impressive service, and one marked by dignity and simplicity.

A fuller account of the week-end's events will be found elsewhere in this magazine.

WHETHER you plan to be an artist or an architect, an engineer or an entomologist, a physicist or a physiologist, money management will play a big part in the achievement of your ambition. Add "Practical Economics" to your knowledge by handling a bank account of your own.

Even though you deal in only small amounts, the experience of handling your own account, of learning the fundamentals of banking procedure, will pay dividends in later years.

You can open an account with a dollar at either of the branches listed below.

What do you plan to be

AN EXECUTIVE?

THE job has its points . . . a carpeted office, buzzers to push, business trips (expenses paid), personal secretaries, dictaphones . . .

But while preparing for the upholstered seat and all that goes with it, get the habit of organizing your own affairs. Start by balancing your own personal budget. Spend no more . . . and preferably less . . . than you receive, and put small savings away faithfully as a "reserve fund" against future needs. That's smart business practice, and good training for anyone, no matter what his future calling may be. Open your own savings account at our nearest branch. We welcome it.
